EXPERIENCE

Aspiring Web Developer, south bend IN —

June 2014  - PRESENT

Building my own personal projects to help build my skills and show off my work and abilities.

EDUCATION

Online — self-paced courses

June 2014  - present

With online courses I have learned a lot about web design and development and editing images to building fully functional static websites and RWD. I have been working on online courses for a little over two years and steadily learning new things every month.

To date I have learned the basics of planning and building a static/responsive  website. The skills I learned are html, css, responsive design, javascript(work in process). I have also learned how to use github and the windows github client that I use to upload all of my work. I am a quick learner and love learning new things to add to my skills belt.

John Adams High School, South Bend IN — Diploma

August 2003 - June 2006

PROJECTS

Portfolio — personal static website - www.kellyhayes.us

This is my first ever website I created with the help of online tutorial videos and textbooks. Here I show off my skills by using html, css, and responsive design. I have also included my other personal project works inside as well.
